

Come camp with us!

Three Oakland County Parks offer diverse camping experiences, each with its own unique character. Independence Oaks, in Clarkston, offers camping for organized groups April through October. Addison Oaks (near Rochester) and Groveland Oaks (near Holly) campgrounds feature family camping May through October.

Family Camping

Addison Oaks and Groveland Oaks county parks offer camping for "roughing it" or for those who prefer a few creature comforts in the outdoors. Come for a relaxing weekend or spend a couple weeks. From tent camping to rental cabins, yurts and group sites, there's an outdoor experience for everyone.

Campground Reservations – Call 248-858-1400

Reservations can be made approximately 11 months (335 days) in advance for select campsites, cabins and yurts at Addison Oaks and Groveland Oaks campgrounds. All other campsites are rented on a first-come, first-served basis. Daily pass or annual vehicle permit is required for day use at either park.

CAMP WILDERNESS

- Organized Group Camping only at - INDEPENDENCE OAKS

9501 Sashabaw Road, near Clarkston, north of I-75
Reservations: 248-625-0877

Located minutes from I-75, Independence Oaks County Park offers overnight camping for organized youth groups including churches, scouts, day camps and more. Designed with these groups in mind, Camp Wilderness includes two areas, for 60 and 100 campers. Amenities include water and electricity, platform tents, pavilions, heated modern bathhouse, fire rings, benches, grills and picnic tables.

The primitive campground is nestled within the 1,268-acre park, surrounded by a wooded area and an open field. Wilderness Bridge leads campers to the 10-acre site. The campground is open May through mid-October.

Campers also have access to Wint Nature Center exhibits, wildlife feeding area and personalized programs led by trained naturalists; more than 12 miles of hiking trails; archery range; swimming beach (not lifeguarded); fishing and boating on 68-acre Crooked Lake; and a 2.2-mile paved path connecting to the Sashabaw Road safety path.

Adventures at ADDISON OAKS

1480 West Romeo Road, Leonard
Nine miles northwest of Rochester, near Oxford
248-693-2432

Addison Oaks Campground is open late April through late October, with six cabins (2-, 4- and 6-person), two yurts, eight group areas and 170 individual sites, including pull-through sites. Each campsite features water and electricity; laundry facilities are also available. Campground amenities include a popular campground recreation program on weekends from Memorial Day through Labor Day, plus Halloween special event weekends in October.

Addison Oaks County Park is open year-round, with myriad recreational opportunities including hiking, biking (single-track mountain bike and winter fat tire bike trails), equestrian trails, picnicking, playgrounds, camping and more on 1,140 wooded acres.

The picturesque park also offers a 24-hole disc golf course; bike, boat and kayak rentals; a 20-mile trail system; and two fishing lakes.

Great times at GROVELAND OAKS

14555 Dixie Highway
at Grange Hall Road in Holly
248-634-9811

Groveland Oaks Campground features a beautiful sandy beach; large 50' x 50' full hookup and modern campsites; eight camper cabins; four yurts, including two on Cottage Island; and two island pavilions for group parties.

Groveland Oaks Campground is conveniently located across Dixie Highway from Holly Oaks ORV Park.

Activity is the name of the game at Groveland Oaks. Campers and park visitors will find pedal boat, kayak, paddle board and corcl rentals; GaGa ball pit; specialty bike rental and a bike skills course; miniature golf; skateboard park; an arcade; basketball and sand volleyball courts; and a popular campground recreation program with crafts, games and outdoor concerts from Memorial Day through Labor Day, plus Halloween special event weekends in September.

Families also enjoy three large children's playscapes, a fishing pier and paved and grass trails. Campground comforts include laundry facilities and Blue Water Grill concessions.
